OVERVIEW

888 Hz is a Brazil-based venture capital firm. As an emerging manager building its fundraising infrastructure and investor relationships, the firm needed a platform that could quickly establish credibility with prospective investors. It selected SS&C Intralinks FundCentre™ Fundraising to support its active capital raise, providing a secure, AI-powered platform that combines institutional-grade security with a streamlined, intuitive investor experience.

SITUATION

As 888 Hz built out its fundraising workflow, the team needed a secure way to share fund materials with a growing list of investors and prospects. The firm compared several providers but ultimately chose Intralinks based on the team's prior experience using VDRPro and Intralinks' strong market reputation.

As an emerging manager, 888 Hz recognized that every investor interaction could influence perceptions of the firm. The team wanted a platform that was intuitive for investors while reinforcing its credibility as an institutional-quality manager.

Security was the top priority. The team needed a centralized environment where it could securely upload fund materials, manage investor access and publish new documents while maintaining complete visibility into investor activity.

SOLUTION

With FundCentre Fundraising, 888 Hz gained a centralized, secure platform for managing investor communications, fund documents, due diligence and fundraising activities. The platform supports the full fundraising life cycle, including investor outreach, due diligence, customer relationship management (CRM), investor activity tracking, commitment management and granular permission controls. For 888 Hz, the greatest value came from creating a seamless investor experience that made it easy for investors to securely access the information they needed.

FundCentre Fundraising's interactive tools have helped 888 Hz manage its fundraising process and support investors, with the team receiving positive feedback on the platform.

That feedback extended to the investor experience. Investors responded positively to the platform's intuitive design and ease of use, reinforcing the professional experience 888 Hz wanted to deliver throughout the fundraising process.

888 Hz also valued the ability to see which documents investors opened, giving the team visibility into document-level engagement. These insights helped the team better understand investor interest and prioritize follow-up, while granular permission controls ensured sensitive materials remained protected.

Implementation was fast and straightforward, with responsive guidance from the Intralinks customer success team helping the firm get up and running quickly.

RESULT

FundCentre Fundraising enabled 888 Hz to deliver a more secure, professional and institutional fundraising experience for both its team and prospective investors.

Security emerged as one of the most valuable aspects of FundCentre for 888 Hz, giving the team greater confidence when managing and sharing sensitive fundraising information.

Beyond protecting sensitive information, the platform also strengthened investor confidence. Intralinks' reputation and security helped reinforce the firm's credibility as a professional, institutional investment manager.

Intralinks' network of more than 3,800 GPs and over 515,000 users worldwide further reinforced the platform's credibility, giving investors confidence in a solution they already knew and trusted.

888 Hz would confidently recommend FundCentre Fundraising to other firms based on its combination of security, usability and exceptional customer support. The platform provides a secure, user-friendly experience that is easy to navigate.

LOOKING AHEAD

Over the next 12 to 24 months, 888 Hz plans to continue using Intralinks to support future fundraising initiatives. The firm also sees potential value in expanding its use of the platform to include FundCentre's investor reporting capabilities.

As 888 Hz continues to grow its investor base, FundCentre Fundraising provides a secure, scalable and credible foundation for capital raising, engaging investors and building long-term relationships.

Accelerate your next fundraise.
