

DealCentre™ for Life Sciences

The collaboration platform for your next breakthrough

Whether you're in pharma, biotech, medical devices or healthcare delivery, innovation is at the heart of what you do. And when it comes to complex financial transactions, competitive product development or multi-party alliances, you need a provider who understands your business and helps you drive productivity.

Accelerating every aspect of your pipeline

We understand that when it comes to licensing, alliances, M&A or fundraising, communicating securely with advisors and partners in an auditable, central location is a must-have.

- Licensing – Whether you're creating new revenue streams from existing IP or looking for a licensing partner for a promising new compound, use Intralinks to accelerate the process
- Raising capital – Accessing capital from the private and public markets is critical to survival, and having core documents at the ready in a secure VDR can speed your process and help you reach a larger universe of qualified investors
- M&A – High research costs and new product pipeline demands fuel robust M&A activity; using Intralinks VDRPro™ can slash the time needed for due diligence
- Alliances – Leverage a unified information sharing system to communicate with multiple parties on your partnership team; with no IT involvement required, business owners keep complete control
